Proposed Claims for Application Ser. No. 09/740,965

Independent Claim

A closure assembly comprising:

a closure frame including header, sill and jamb portions, one of the header or jamb portions having a hollow interior bound on three sides and defining a pocket portion, the pocket portion being open to a fourth side thereby providing access to the pocket portion when the closure frame is mounted in an opening of a building, the one of the header or jamb portions and the pocket portion being an integral one piece unit, a spring biased roller being removably contained within the pocket portion, and a retractable mesh screen having a leading edge being carried by the spring biased roller, the retractable mesh screen accumulating on and paying out from the spring biased roller.

Dependent claim

A closure assembly according to claim ___, further comprising a cover for closing the pocket portion.
